RAM; 500 MB free space (recommended). Technical requirements Viewer should be able to playback Blu-ray/ DVD/ SVCD (from region 2); in this case, it is required to have Windows Media Player 11.2 installed. Interactive Features FlixCards support and the DVD-Menu are working. Special Features The following features are supported by the FlixCards app. Playback of digital titles (BD-J, BD-Live, DLNA). Translations of menus and captions in over 20 languages. User Interface and Display FlixCards is a very attractive application. There are three different user interfaces, that can be selected by the user, according to personal preferences. The first, which I have chosen to illustrate the application, is the more traditional one. This one shows the menu to the left side, with the movie on the right side. The second interface, is the one most common on mobile devices (smartphones, tablets, laptops etc.), where the menu appears on top of the movie. In this interface, the movie is in the center of the screen. The third interface, is the one with the flattest design, which puts the menu on the right side of the screen, and the movie is on the left side. User Control The user has control over the following parameters: Movie: Title of the movie to be displayed. Number of subtitles: Number of subtitles to be displayed. Volume: Volume of the movie to be displayed. Center: Position of the movie (left or right). Breathe: Breathing effect. Transition: Transition style for the movie (slide or fade). Playlist: Select playlist. A/V Subtitles: This option allows the user to choose which subtitle languages (or at least the ones in the correct region) to display. Audio: Audio track to be used to play the movie. Subtitle Languages: Audio subtitles language to be used for the selected audio track. Menu Languages: Select menu language. Subtitles (Enable/Disable): Select whether the subtitles (either played by the player itself, or included in the file) should be enabled. Captions (Enable/Disable): Select whether the captions (closed captions) should be enabled. 82157476af
